Advanced Italian - Contemporary Society and Culture
ITA 108

Instructors:
Elisa Dossena

The main goal of this course is to improve fluency in Italian and prepare students for upper level courses in the Italian program. Through film clips, film screenings, and readings, students will increase their understanding of grammatical functions and vocabulary applications, and improve their listening, speaking, reading and writing skills. The course has been enhanced with a digital platform, which allows students to actively interact with texts, films and each other through exercises and activities.

Course is taught in Italian.

Prerequisites and Restrictions: By invitation or placement test.
